EXECUTIVE MANAGEMENT

JAMES L. DOLAN

Executive Chairman
The Madison Square Garden Company

As executive chairman of The Madison Square Garden Company (MSG), James L. Dolan oversees the company's many entities, including its world-famous arena complex, professional sports teams, sports and entertainment networks, and historic showplaces. Mr. Dolan also serves as president and chief executive officer of Cablevision Systems Corporation, one of the nation's leading media and telecommunications companies.

In his role at The Madison Square Garden Company, Mr. Dolan is responsible for the Company's overall growth strategy and manages all of its operations. He also serves as governor to the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Knicks and Rangers.

To ensure the standing of the Company's premier venues, Mr. Dolan has taken on a number of restoration projects throughout his tenure. The Madison Square Garden Arena is currently undergoing a complete Transformation that will significantly enhance the experience of customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and partners. Mr. Dolan was also the catalyst for a restoration of the Company's Beacon Theatre, which was renewed to its former grandeur in early 2009. Among his most significant accomplishments as MSG chairman, Mr. Dolan spearheaded a multimillion-dollar restoration of Radio City Music Hall in 1999, returning the national landmark and MSG showpiece to its original splendor.

Over the past few years, Mr. Dolan has taken additional steps to expand MSG's entertainment properties. They include the addition of The Chicago Theatre, which was built in 1921 as one of the country's most opulent motion picture houses. MSG also extended its music business, acquiring a minority-equity interest in Front Line Management, which was recently acquired by Live Nation, the world's largest live entertainment company.

Mr. Dolan has led MSG's response to local and national tragedies. He played a principal role in organizing "The Concert For New York City," which generated more than $35 million in aid for 9/11 victims and heroes, and "From The Big Apple to The Big Easy," which raised nearly $9 million for Hurricane Katrina relief. Mr. Dolan also supports The Madison Square Garden Company's ongoing commitment to the community, particularly through the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit charity that works closely with all areas at the company to help children throughout the New York metropolitan area.

In addition to his leadership role at The Madison Square Garden Company, Mr. Dolan is chief executive of Cablevision Systems Corporation, which served as MSG's parent company until February 2010, when the sports, media and entertainment business became a standalone, public company. Mr. Dolan oversees Cablevision's comprehensive portfolio of advanced telecommunications services: iO TV digital video, Optimum Voice digital voice, Optimum Online high-speed Internet and Optimum WiFi, the nation's largest wireless internet network.

Also, under his purview, and serving the New York tri-state area, are Cablevision's local media properties, which include News 12 Networks, MSG Varsity and Newsday Media Group, which features Long Island's leading daily newspaper, Newsday. Other businesses under the Cablevision umbrella include Clearview Cinemas, one of the tri-state area's leading motion picture exhibitors.

Prior to assuming his present posts at Cablevision and The Madison Square Garden Company, Mr. Dolan was CEO of Rainbow Media Holdings the former Cablevision programming subsidiary that became a separate, public company named AMC Networks Inc. in June 2011. Mr. Dolan began his career with Cablevision in the 1970s and served in a variety of executive positions before overseeing Rainbow Media.

Mr. Dolan serves on the board of directors for The Madison Square Garden Company and AMC Networks, and he is a member of Cablevision's board of directors and its executive committee. He is also on the board of The Lustgarten Foundation, an organization he helped found in 1998 which today is the nation's largest private supporter of pancreatic cancer research. In addition, he sits on the boards of Live Nation, the New York University Steinhardt Dean's Council and the Breathe Easy Play Hard Foundation.

HANK J. RATNER

President and Chief Executive Officer
The Madison Square Garden Company

Hank J. Ratner is president and chief executive officer of The Madison Square Garden Company (MSG), which includes renowned performance venues, entertainment properties, professional sports teams and television networks. Mr. Ratner directs the overall growth strategy and day-to-day operations of the business. He also serves as alternate governor to the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Knicks and Rangers.

The Company's signature assets consist of some of the nation's most popular entertainment and sports properties, including "The World's Most Famous Arena," along with New York's Radio City Music Hall and Beacon Theatre, The Chicago Theatre and the Wang Theatre in Boston. The Company's other entities include the New York Knicks, Rangers and Liberty; MSG Entertainment, a live-entertainment company; MSG and MSG Plus, regional sports and entertainment networks; and Fuse, a national music network.

In February of 2010, Mr. Ratner led the spin-off of Madison Square Garden from Cablevision Systems Corporation and, today, The Madison Square Garden Company is a standalone, public company. He is also spearheading the Transformation of the Madison Square Garden Arena, which will significantly enhance the experience of customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and partners. In addition, the project will feature a dramatically redesigned Seventh Avenue entrance, new seats, improved sightlines, new Event Level and Madison Level suites, two new one-of-a-kind bridges suspended above the playing surface, and spectacular public concourses. The Transformation will also feature new food offerings by some of the best chefs in the world, pay homage to the building's storied history, and will include the restoration The Garden's distinctive and celebrated ceiling.

Mr. Ratner served as MSG's vice chairman for seven years before being named president and chief executive officer, following MSG's spin-off from Cablevision. Throughout his tenure, Mr. Ratner has been influential in formulating and implementing strategic direction for MSG. He played a key role in bringing three of the country's landmark showplaces – New York City's legendary Beacon Theatre, the historic Chicago Theatre and the Wang Theatre in Boston – under MSG management. In addition, he helped to secure the Company's successful relationship with Cirque du Soleil and developed MSG's music strategy which emphasizes collaboration between MSG Entertainment and Fuse to provide a unique platform for artists to connect with fans and creates innovative programming for Fuse viewers. MSG's music strategy has already led to the development of "Fuse Presents" concert series, for which Fuse exclusively presents live concerts from The Madison Square Garden Company's iconic venues.

As chairman of the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit that works closely with all areas of The Madison Square Garden Company, Mr. Ratner has been a driving force behind the creation and significant expansion of the charity's programs, enhancing its commitment to "make dreams come true for children facing obstacles." Since its inception in 2006, Garden of Dreams has created thousands of once-in-a-lifetime experiences at Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall, the Beacon Theatre, the MSG Training Center, and at Fuse and MSG television studios, brightening the lives of more than 200,000 tri-state area children in crisis and their families.

Mr. Ratner has also served as vice chairman of Cablevision Systems Corporation since 2003. In this role, he helps to set corporate direction and strategy for the media and telecommunications company whose portfolio of operations includes a full suite of advanced digital television, voice and high-speed Internet services, and valuable local media and programming properties. Prior to serving as MSG and Cablevision vice chairman, Mr. Ratner served as COO and then vice chairman of Rainbow Media Holdings, Cablevision's former programming subsidiary which became AMC Networks, a separate company, after its spin-off in June 2011. At Rainbow, he helped lead the executive management team that directed AMC, IFC, Bravo, WE tv, Fuse, Lifeskool, News 12 Networks, Rainbow Advertising Sales Corporation and Rainbow Sports Networks. In 2005, Mr. Ratner led Cablevision's negotiations with Fox to restructure the ownership of assets held by Regional Programming Partners, a partnership between the two companies. This restructuring gave Cablevision, among other benefits, 100 percent ownership of MSG and its properties.

Mr. Ratner joined Cablevision as assistant general counsel in 1987. A year later, he moved to Rainbow Media, rising to the position of Rainbow's chief operating officer in 1998. Mr. Ratner was then promoted to vice chairman of Cablevision before also being named vice chairman of MSG in 2003.

Previously, Mr. Ratner was an associate with the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell. He received a bachelor's degree and doctorate of law with distinction from Emory University.

History: On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June 1997. Since that day in 1996, there have been many firsts for the WNBA:

Val Ackerman: the first president of the WNBA
Sheryl Swoopes: the first player signed to the WNBA
Cynthia Cooper: the league's first Most Valuable Player
Houston Comets: the first WNBA Champions
Lisa Leslie: the first WNBA player to dunk (7/30/02 vs. Miami)
Lauren Jackson: the first international player to win MVP (2007)
Candace Parker: the first rookie to earn the league's MVP honor (2008)
Sylvia Fowles: the first goaltending call (6/3/2008 vs. LA)

The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, Calif. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks, 67-57.

Fifteen years later, in a rematch of those same two teams at Staples Center in Los Angeles, the increased skill, talent, and athleticism of WNBA players was evident as the Sparks, led by center/forward Candace Parker, defeated the Liberty 96-91. In 2011, the league also selected its "Top 15 Players of All Time." Voting was conducted among fans, media, and current players and coaches. Those named to the list were Sue Bird, Tamika Catchings, Cynthia Cooper, Yolanda Griffith, Becky Hammon, Lauren Jackson, Lisa Leslie, Ticha Penicheiro, Cappie Pondexter, Katie Smith, Dawn Staley, Sheryl Swoopes, Diana Taurasi, Tina Thompson, and Teresa Weatherspoon.

A Growing Game: The influence of the WNBA can be seen in the explosive growth of organized women's basketball over the past 14 seasons. An estimated 100 million women play basketball worldwide, and the league reflects this trend, featuring 15 international players from six countries and territories at the start of the 2011 season. Female AAU youth basketball participation has increased 277 percent since 1991 (from 28,840 to 108,758 players). Female high school basketball participation has increased 17 percent since 1991 (from 387,802 to 456,967 players). And female NCAA basketball participation has increased 43 percent since 1991 (from 10,551 to 15,096 players).

The first WNBA All-Star Game was held in New York at Madison Square Garden in 1999. The Garden also hosted the event in 2003 and in 2006. Washington's Verizon Center (2002, 2007) is the other venue to host the game multiple times. Other All-Star Games were played in Phoenix (2000), Orlando (2001), and at Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Conn. (2009). Due to the Olympics, no All-Star Game was held in 2004 and 2008, although Radio City Music Hall in New York City was the site of an exhibition game on August 5, 2004, as the U.S. National Team, comprised mainly of WNBA greats, faced a squad of WNBA All-Stars in "WNBA vs. USA Basketball: The Game at Radio City." In 2010, the WNBA held a special event called "WNBA vs. USA Basketball: The Stars at the Sun" at Mohegan Sun Arena in order to accommodate the FIBA World Championship schedule.

Inspiring Women: The Inspiring Woman Award is an annual honor that celebrates an individual who, on a daily basis, demonstrates her ability to inspire others through her commitment, passion and dedication to work, family, and community. Past honorees include Emmy-award winning news anchor Katie Couric (2011), U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Susan Rice (2010), Emmy-award winning journalist Cokie Roberts (2009), Good Morning America's Robin Roberts (2008), Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice (2007), and the WNBA All-Decade Team (2006).

Dawn Staley Award: The Dawn Staley Community Leadership Award was announced in 2006 and is now presented annually to the player who best exemplifies the characteristics of a leader in the community and reflects Staley's contagious leadership, spirit, charitable efforts, and love for the game. Winners include Charde Houston (2010), Chamique Holdsclaw (2009), Tamika Raymond (2008), and Tamika Catchings (2007). A member of the WNBA's All-Decade Team, Staley, who retired following the 2006 season, established herself as one of the greatest ambassadors in women's basketball history, while also demonstrating outstanding leadership qualities as a coach on the collegiate level and as a philanthropist and humanitarian.

Marketing: The WNBA maintains marketing, promotional, and media partnerships with a variety of top companies, each with varying levels of activation and integration in league operations.

Marketing and Promotional Partners: adidas, American Express, Bacardi, BBVA, Boost Mobile, CieAura, Coca-Cola, Deuce Brand, EA Sports, Gatorade, General Mills/Wheaties, Growums, Hayworth, HP, InterContinental Hotels Group (IHG) Hotels, Jamba Juice, NewTek, Nike, Panasonic, Pepperidge Farm, Pirate's Booty, Russell Athletic, Sanofi Aventis, Sanofi Pasteur, Spalding

The WNBA's marketing partners utilize the league to support women's sports and reach its strong fanbase of women, families, and young girls through advertising in WNBA nationally televised games, national promotions, player endorsements, and special events.

On Aug. 22, 2011 the WNBA and Boost Mobile, an industry leader in no-contract wireless service, announced a landmark multiyear marketing partnership that makes Boost Mobile the first leaguewide marquee partner of the WNBA. As the league's most prominent partner, Boost Mobile is tied closely to the WNBA brand on a national level. As part of this partnership, the Boost Mobile brand is prominently featured on the front of the game jerseys of 10 teams. Additionally, special programming highlighting the "WNBA's Top 15 Moments presented by Boost Mobile" is included as part of the league's 15th season celebration.

The WNBA has an extensive, highly integrated relationship with adidas. The sporting goods and apparel giant has served as the official outfitter of the WNBA, having unveiled new uniforms across the league in 2007 and again in 2011. In 2008, adidas became the first-ever presenting partner of the WNBA's entire postseason, including both the playoffs and Finals, and was the presenting partner for the 2011 WNBA All-Star Game.

Five WNBA teams have entered the league's Marquee Partnership program, which includes multiyear deals featuring branded sponsorship of game jerseys – the Phoenix Mercury partnering with LifeLock, the Los Angeles Sparks with Farmers Insurance Group, the Seattle Storm with Microsoft search engine Bing, the New York Liberty with Foxwoods Resort Casino, and the Washington Mystics with Inova Health System.

Attendance / TV Ratings: In 2011, WNBA attendance increased for the fifth consecutive year and regular-season TV viewership on ESPN2 reached its highest level since 2005, as fans responded to one of the most compelling seasons in the league's 15-year history.

Viewership for the league's showcase events also increased. Viewership for the WNBA All-Star Game on ABC was up 46 percent vs. the last All-Star on ABC in 2009 (there was no All-Star Game in 2010). Viewership for the 2011 WNBA Finals was up four percent over the 2010 championship series. U.S. ratings for the first round of the 2011 WNBA Draft on ESPN increased 47 percent vs. the first round of 2010 Draft on ESPN2.

The WNBA's broadcast coverage in 2011 included more than two dozen high-definition regular-season playoffs and Finals games on ESPN2 and ABC, as well as 70 regular-season games and up to six playoff games on NBA TV. In addition, all WNBA games were available online via WNBA LiveAccess unless: (a) They were televised on ABC or ESPN2 – in which case they streamed live on ESPN3.com and were later archived to WNBA.com, or (b) Their game window fell within a national broadcast window on ABC or ESPN2.

In July 2007, the WNBA signed a new, eight-year TV deal with ESPN that tipped off in 2009 and runs through 2016, the WNBA's 20th season. The agreement, which calls for ABC, ESPN, and ESPN2 to telecast WNBA games, includes rights fees, a first for any women's professional team sports league in the U.S.

Digital/Social Media: WNBA Digital assets continued to increase in popularity as WNBA.com saw continued growth during the 2011 season, with daily unique visits up 13 percent and overall visits up 11 percent. WNBA games streamed online at WNBA.com via LiveAccess saw a 55 percent increase in unique users. In terms of social media, the WNBA YouTube channel experienced a 35 percent increase in video views this season. The WNBA Facebook page (www.Facebook.com/wnba) saw an 11 percent increase in fans.

Global Reach: The WNBA has a wide impact on overseas markets. In 2011, WNBA games and programming reached a record 203 countries in 25 languages. In addition, for the sixth consecutive year, fans around the globe are able to view WNBA action via live Webcasts on WNBA.com.

End-of-season 2011 WNBA rosters featured 15 international players from seven countries and territories. Among the league's international contingent are the three-time MVP, Seattle Storm forward/center Lauren Jackson (Australia), the Indiana Fever's Tammy Sutton-Brown (Canada), the San Antonio Silver Stars' Sophia Young (St. Vincent), the Los Angeles Sparks' Ticha Penicheiro (Portugal), and Tulsa's Liz Cambage (Australia), whom the Shock selected with the No. 2 overall pick in the 2011 Draft.

WNBA Draft: The 2012 WNBA Draft presented by Boost Mobile took place on April 16 at ESPN headquarters in Bristol, Conn. It was the second straight year in which the league's draft was held on the ESPN campus. The Los Angeles Sparks selected Stanford University forward Nnemkadi Ogwumike as the No. 1 overall pick. The Seattle Storm selected Shekinna Stricklen second, the Minnesota Lynx tabbed Devereaux Peters third, the Tulsa Shock chose Glory Johnson fourth, and the San Antonio Silver Stars took Jantel Lavender fifth to round out the first five selections. In 2011, Maya Moore, selected No. 1 overall by the Lynx, went on to become the fifth top pick in the past six seasons to win Rookie of the Year honors.

Ownership: Six WNBA teams now fall under the independent ownership model: the Atlanta Dream, Chicago Sky, Connecticut Sun, Los Angeles Sparks, Seattle Storm, and Tulsa Shock.

The Tulsa Shock (formerly Detroit), which began play in Tulsa in 2010, is owned by Tulsa Pro Hoops L.L.C. The Connecticut Sun, which began operation in 2003 after relocating from Orlando, is owned by the Mohegan Tribe. The Chicago Sky is owned by Michael Alter.

Entering the 2012 season, 10 women also serve as majority or minority owners of WNBA teams: Dr. Sheila Johnson (Washington Mystics); Paula Madison, Kathy Goodman and Carla Christofferson (Los Angeles Sparks); Mary Brock and Kelly Loeffler (Atlanta); and Dawn Trudeau, Ginny Gilder, and Lisa Brummel of Force 10 Hoops L.L.C. (Seattle Storm). A 10th, musical artist Michelle Williams, formerly of "Destiny's Child," is a minority owner of the Chicago Sky.

Key Highlights: On, Aug. 26, 2011, retired three-time league MVP Lisa Leslie became the first former WNBA player to become part owner of a team when she joined the existing ownership group of the Los Angeles Sparks led by Paula Madison and investors Kathy Goodman and Carla Christofferson.

In 2010, Tina Thompson of the Los Angeles Sparks became the all-time scoring leader with 6,413 points, surpassing her former teammate, Lisa Leslie (6,263) who retired following the 2009 season.

Tina Charles won the 2010 WNBA Rookie of the Year award after averaging 15.5 ppg, 11.7 rpg, and 1.7 bpg, while also setting league records for most rebounds (398) and doubles-doubles (22) in a season.

Lauren Jackson won the 2010 WNBA MVP presented by Kia Motors award and also took home 2010 WNBA Finals MVP honors.

Jackson also became the third player to earn WNBA MVP honors three times (2003, 2007, 2010), joining the Sparks' Lisa Leslie (2001, 2004, 2006) and the Houston Comets' Sheryl Swoopes (2000, 2002, 2005). Houston's Cynthia Cooper earned the award twice (1997, 1998). The others to capture MVP honors are the Sacramento Monarchs' Yolanda Griffith (1999), the Sparks' Candace Parker (2008, when she became the first rookie in league history to earn the award), and the Phoenix Mercury's Diana Taurasi (2009).

Lisa Leslie of the Los Angeles Sparks became the first – and only – WNBA player to capture the regular-season, All-Star, and Finals MVP awards in the same season (2001).

Candace Parker became the first WNBA player to win Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player in the same season (2008). The first selection in the 2008 WNBA Draft, she earned both honors after leading the league in double-doubles and rebounds per game, while also ranking second in blocks per game and fourth in points per game.

Lauren Jackson became the WNBA's youngest (26 years, 77 days) and fastest (209 games) to score her 4,000th career point on July 27, 2007. Diana Taurasi subsequently surpassed Jackson as the fastest to 4,000 points in terms of fewest games played when she reached the milestone on July 27, 2009 in just 197 games.

Taurasi rewrote the WNBA scoring records in 2006 when she led the league with 25.3 points per contest, became the first WNBA player to top 800 points in a single season (860), and the single-season mark for three-point field-goals (121), and the single-game mark for points (47, a number later equaled by the Storm's Lauren Jackson in 2007).

Sheryl Swoopes, who earned MVP and Defensive Player of the Year honors in 2000 and 2002, recorded the league's first triple-double (14 points, 15 rebounds, 10 assists) vs. the Detroit Shock on July 27, 1999.

Lisa Leslie became the first player to dunk in a WNBA game when she did so on July 30, 2002 versus the Miami Sol. Candace Parker, also of the Sparks, was the second, dunking versus the Indiana Fever on June 22, 2008.

WNBA Cares: Through the WNBA Cares initiative, the league is deeply committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people, with a special emphasis on promoting health and wellness, youth and family development, and education. WNBA teams and players donate countless dollars and hours each year through league programs including WNBA FIT, Breast Health Awareness, and WNBA Green.

LIBERTY IN THE COMMUNITY

GARDEN OF DREAMS

Garden of Dreams is a non-profit charity that works closely with all areas of The Madison Square Garden Company, including the New York Liberty, Knicks, Rangers, MSG Networks, MSG Entertainment and Fuse "to make dreams come true for kids facing obstacles". In the six years since its inception, Garden of Dreams has worked tirelessly to fulfill its mission by creating unique and unforgettable events and activities -often involving unprecedented access to The Madison Square Garden Company celebrities, events and venues -that have brightened the lives of thousands and thousands of special children and their families.

Garden of Dreams strives to be heroic, inspirational and unforgettable – all attributes of the children the Foundation has had the privilege to meet over the course of its history. Partnering with a diverse collection of outstanding children's related organizations – from hospitals, to foster organizations, to homeless shelters and "wish" organizations, the Garden of Dreams Foundation has a singular goal each and every day – to utilize the power and magic of Madison Square Garden and its properties to bring joy and happiness to children facing devastating problems – whether they relate to illness, homelessness, poverty, foster care issues or tragedy.

Since its inception in 2006, the Foundation has created once in a lifetime experiences at Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall, the MSG Training Center, Fuse and the Beacon Theatre for more than 200,000 tri-state area children. Over 175,000 tickets have been donated to organizations served by Garden of Dreams and more than 2,300 special events have been designed for children and families.

For example, Garden of Dreams has spearheaded surprise Liberty player visits to local hospitals and community based organizations to bring smiles to children in the tri-state area who are facing enormous obstacles. Players visit with the children, sign autographs and deliver gift bags. In addition, Garden of Dreams and the Liberty have hosted other events such as basketball clinics, a Green Week event to plant and beautify neighborhoods in the, a school supply drive and Dream Night experiences at Liberty home games. All opportunities provided by the Garden of Dreams and NY Liberty have provided unique and memorable experiences for many children and families.

Through MSG Entertainment toy drives and NY Rangers coat drives, Garden of Dreams collects much needed items to deliver to children during the holiday season. Garden of Dreams also provides opportunities to meet players and celebrities on Dream Suite Nights or at Rangers Skating Parties, on set at Fuse, or the once in a lifetime opportunity to perform on the Great Stage of Radio City Music Hall at the MSG Entertainment Talent Show.

Through its flagship 'Make A Dream Come True' program, Garden of Dreams has assisted in making dreams come true for several children– including one child's dream to meet Rangers legend, Adam Graves, and another child's wish to meet the Radio City Rockettes. The meetings may only last a few hours, but the memories and relationships with Garden of Dreams last forever.

Each year, the Foundation seeks to brighten the lives of children by providing summer opportunities for organizations through Dream Week. During Dream Week, children participate in a week long summer experience where they take part in one of a kind activities with each division of The Madison Square Garden Company.

Additionally, in partnership with MSG Network, Garden of Dreams hosts the MSG Classroom program, an eight week course designed to teach high school students about career opportunities available within the television industry. Throughout the course, students attain skills necessary to create their very own sports and entertainment program. At the conclusion of the program, students present their original piece to MSG executives and employees during a special wrap party.

Together with Fuse, Garden of Dreams created Fuse Rocks the Classroom, a program that introduces high school students to the music television industry. Launched in January, 2009, Fuse Rocks the Classroom provides teens with the unique opportunity to develop skills necessary to pursue a career in music television. Students receive hands on experience working with camera equipment, set design, and production crews while working to create their very own music television show.

The Garden of Dreams Foundation's partnership with The Madison Square Garden Company and its employees provides the Foundation with an opportunity to conduct a meaningful "Adopt a Family" program with Children's Aid Society. This past holiday season, MSG employees "adopted" 135 families in need throughout New York City.

MADDIE

A LIBERTY FAN'S BEST FRIEND

Scanning the crowd at New York Liberty games, you will find many exciting and friendly faces, but one face that stands out is the one that belongs to the New York Liberty mascot, Maddie. Like most dogs, Maddie is lovable and huggable and known for a unique personality among the Liberty faithful.

Besides being a fan favorite, Maddie plays an important role for the team during the Liberty pre-game ceremony. Before every game, you will find Maddie doing pushups and getting the Liberty players pumped up for the game. With less than a minute before tip-off, Maddie leads fans in a L-I-B-E-R-T-Y chant while spelling out the name at center court.

In addition to on-court antics, Maddie is also known for valuable work off the court. Whether it is making appearances at events for The Garden of Dreams Foundations, or pumping up the crowd at The CBS Early Show, you can always count on Maddie to spread happiness throughout the day.

A fact unknown to most, Maddie is named after the Liberty's home arena, Madison Square Garden, and has been entertaining fans at Liberty games since the WNBA's inception in 1997.

LIBERTY DANCE TEAMS

LIBERTY TORCH PATROL

Since the team's inception in 1997, Liberty fans have come to expect several things: championship basketball, deafening crowd noise, New York celebrities and great game entertainment. Performing at every game, the Liberty Torch Patrol has become one of the hottest acts in town by capturing the spirit of the New York Liberty. The Torch Patrol does whatever it takes to get Liberty fans involved in the action, including t-shirt tosses, high-flying cheerleading stunts and acrobatics, streamer cannons and pre-game giveaways. The 16-member Torch Patrol is comprised of both men and women with extensive experience in either professional dance or cheerleading.

LIL' TORCHES

Liberty games are ageless – whether young or old, everyone has a great time. Look no further than the Lil' Torches for proof of just how true that is. The Liberty's junior dance group features local children between the ages of 6-14. When they perform at weekend games at The Prudential Center, they receive just as big of an ovation as Liberty players do! They will once again be brightening games in 2012.

TIMELESS TORCHES

The most recent addition to the Liberty family is a little bit older and a whole lot wiser. The Timeless Torches show that you don't have to be young to be a Liberty fan – just young at heart. This dance group consists of men and women over the age of 40 who want to share their love of the Liberty with the crowd. The Timeless Torches made their debut in 2005, and were a hit from the get-go, making an impact on fans at The Garden, and even showed off their Liberty spirit to a national audience when they performed on ABC's Good Morning America and made a special guest appearance on NBC's 30 Rock. They have also represented New York by performing at WNBA All-Star Games in 2006, 2007 and 2009. Keep an eye out for this popular and memorable dance troupe, when it returns to MSG for its seventh season this summer.

THE WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS ARENA

MSG HISTORY

Beginnings
The current Garden -- located between 31st and 33rd Streets and Seventh and Eighth Avenues on Manhattan's West Side -- is the fourth building (third site) to be named Madison Square Garden.

Garden I: was located at Madison Square: 26th Street and Madison Avenue. It was originally opened in 1874 (at a cost of $35,000) by the legendary P.T. Barnum as "Barnum's Monster Classical and Geological Hippodrome." However, it was soon renamed "Gilmore's Garden" when the lease was auctioned off to bandmaster Patrick S. Gilmore (the term "Garden" was used often during this period to denote a place of public gathering and entertainment).

The building, which had 28-foot walls without a roof, hosted a varied schedule of social and fraternal meetings, flower shows and commercial exhibitions. When Gilmore's lease expired in 1878, it was picked up briefly by W. M. Tileson. The following year, William Vanderbilt of the New York Central Railroad assumed control of the facility and officially renamed it "Madison Square Garden" on May 31, 1879. Featuring a sports and entertainment program that stressed such events as boxing and the National Horse Show, Garden I stood until its demolition in 1889.

Garden II: was constructed on the site of Garden I, opening on Jun. 16, 1890 at a cost of $1.5 million. It contained an 8,000-seat main arena, 1,500-seat concert hall, 1,200-seat theatre and the world's largest indoor swimming pool. The Spanish Renaissance-style structure was topped by its most famous feature: a 32-story tower and roof garden atop which stood Augustus Saint-Gauden's gold statue of Diana, Goddess of the Hunt.

Stanford White, the renowned architect who designed Garden II, also figured in its most famous - and infamous - event. On the night of Jun. 25, 1906, White was gunned down in the Garden's rooftop garden by Pittsburgh millionaire Harry Thaw, allegedly in revenge for White's long-standing affair with Thaw's wife, showgirl Evelyn Nesbit. The White-Thaw-Nesbit love triangle was ultimately immortalized in the 1955 film The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing - starring Ray Milland as White and Joan Collins as Nesbit - and in the recent best-seller American Eve by Paula Uruburu (Riverhead Books, 2008). Nesbit died in obscurity in California at age 81 in 1967.

Garden II hosted a sporting card heavy with boxing, wrestling, six-day bicycle races and horse shows, along with national events such as the 1924 Democratic National Convention, a marathon that lasted through 16 days and 103 ballots. Movie buffs will recall that in Orson Welles' 1941 classic Citizen Kane, Charles Foster Kane's acceptance of the 1916 New York gubernatorial nomination takes place at Garden II (although, obviously, it wasn't actually filmed there).

Garden II closed with a boxing card on May 5, 1925, followed by a mournful eulogy by ring announcer Joe Humphreys: "Farewell to thee, o temple of fistiana. Farewell to thee, o sweet Miss Diana...". The New York Life Insurance Building (51 Madison Avenue) occupies the former site of Gardens I and II, while Diana found a new home at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

Garden III - the "Old Garden": was built in just 249 days at 49th Street and Eighth Avenue under the watchful eyes of promoter Tex Rickard and architect Thomas Lamb. The fabled 18,000-seat arena, built at a cost of $5.6 million, opened with a six-day bicycle race on Nov. 24, 1925, and for 43 years was America's premier sports and entertainment showplace. Ironically, Rickard did not live to see the blossoming of Garden III, suffering a fatal appendicitis attack on Jan. 6, 1929.

Anyone who ever set foot in the Old Garden remembers its unforgettable atmosphere...the sky-high balcony...the haze from decades of cigarette smoke...the main lobby, a schmoozer's paradise...the marquee...G.O. Cards...the organ (played first by Gladys Goodding, later by Virginia Thomas)...the unmistakable voice of John Condon...the Nedick's and Adam Hats stores that flanked the main entrance...

Sports - especially basketball, hockey, boxing and track - would be the lifeblood of the Old Garden. But it also hosted entertainment extravaganzas ranging from the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus and the Gene Autry Rodeo to star-studded spectacles like Mike Todd's 1957 anniversary party for his film Around the World in 80 Days and President John F. Kennedy's May 19, 1962 birthday party which featured Marilyn Monroe's breathless version of "Happy Birthday." On the screen, the Garden provided the inspiration, and title, for the 1932 Paramount epic Madison Square Garden, starring Jack Oakie and ZaSu Pitts, as well as the on-location backdrop for the harrowing final reel of John Frankenheimer's 1962 classic The Manchurian Candidate.

The Knicks played their first game at Garden III on November 11, 1946, losing to the Chicago Stags 78-68 in overtime. In the 22 years the Knicks played on 49th Street, they would record just six sellouts, including the most famous of all – the long-awaited pro debut of Bill Bradley against Detroit before 18,499 fans and a worldwide media contingent on December 9, 1967.

The Knicks played their final game at the Old Garden on February 10, 1968, a 115-97 win over Philadelphia. The last event ever was the Westminster Dog Show, over February 12-13, 1968. After the Old Garden was demolished, the site was used for years as a Kinney parking lot. The Worldwide Plaza office/apartment complex, which opened in 1989, now occupies the site.

The first NHL team to play at Garden III was the New York Americans, who rented the building for the 1925-26 season. The Rangers played their first regular-season NHL game there on Nov. 16, 1926, beating the Montreal Maroons 1-0. In the 42 years the Rangers played on 49th Street, they would win three Stanley Cup championships (1928, 1933 and 1940) and develop a host of Hall of Famers, including Bill Cook, Frank Boucher, Ching Johnson, Babe Pratt, Neil Colville, Chuck Rayner, Andy Bathgate, Harry Howell, Gump Worsley, Rod Gilbert, Jean Ratelle and Eddie Giacomin.

The Rangers played their final game at the Old Garden on the afternoon of Feb. 11, 1968;a 3-3 tie with Detroit. The last event ever was the Westminster Dog Show, over Feb. 12-13, 1968. After the Old Garden was demolished, the site was used for years as a Kinney parking lot. The Worldwide Plaza office/apartment complex, which opened in 1989, now occupies the site.

MSG HISTORY

Garden IV: On Nov. 3, 1960, Garden president Irving Mitchell Felt announced plans for a new Madison Square Garden - Garden IV - to eventually be built at 33rd Street between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, atop Pennsylvania Station.

Prospective sites for a New Garden had been discussed throughout the mid- and late-'50s, especially the area at Columbus Circle which would eventually house the New York Coliseum and, ultimately, the Time Warner Center.

Then the Garden Corporation obtained the coveted "air rights" above Penn Station from the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1961. The Railroad had entertained the idea of selling Penn Station's air rights as far back as 1951, when faced with a $72 million deficit. In 1955, Railroad president James Symes and famed real estate developer William Zeckendorf signed an agreement to option the Station's air rights for an industrial-commercial "Palace of Progress", with a new, renovated Penn Station below street level. When the project fell through, the Railroad sold the air rights to the Garden Corporation. Above-ground demolition of Penn Station began on Oct. 28, 1963, with new concrete poured starting on May 1, 1964.

The effort was not without its critics, one of whom called the destruction of Penn Station "an act of irresponsible public vandalism." Ultimately, Penn Station's legacy was the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission, the guiding force behind a series of laws that today protect more than 1,000 individual city landmarks.

Garden IV opened as a glittering sports and entertainment showplace, with its distinctive circular, cable-suspended roof above the 19,000-seat arena, its 5,000-seat Felt Forum, 48-lane Bowling Center, 500-seat cinema, Hall of Fame Club, National Art Museum of Sport, 50,000-square foot Exposition Rotunda and 29-story office building (Two Penn Plaza) attached by a pedestrian mall.

The first element of the New Garden complex to open its doors was the Bowling Center, on Oct. 30, 1967. On Nov. 26, 1967, the Felt Forum opened with a performance of the Welsh and Scots Guards.

The "New Garden" itself officially opened on Feb. 11, 1968, when Bob Hope and Bing Crosby hosted "The Night of the Century," a star-studded salute to the USO. One week later – Feb. 18, 1968 – the Rangers played their first game in their new home, a 3-1 victory over a Philadelphia Flyers team that had entered the NHL that season in what signaled the end of the NHL's Original Six era.

Odds 'N Ends

- Cost for design and construction of the present Garden was $43 million.
- Garden IV was built by Turner Construction and the Del E. Webb Corporation. The building was designed by Charles Luckman, the fabled entrepreneur and architect who died in 1999. Luckman also designed the Great Western Forum, the Los Angeles Convention Center, CBS Television City, the Prudential Center in Boston and the Johnson Space Center in Houston.
- The Garden arena is 425 feet in diameter, 13 stories high, and occupies 820,000-square feet of real estate.
- Each of the four entrance/exit towers is over 100 feet high and contains at least 10 escalators.
- Seating capacity for Knicks & Liberty basketball is 19,763. From February 4, 1993 to November 2, 2002, the Knicks compiled a streak of 433 consecutive home sellouts (regular season plus Playoffs), the fifth-longest sellout streak in NBA history.
- The Garden entered the 2011-12 season as the second-oldest arena in the NBA. Only Oakland's Oracle Arena (originally opened in 1966 as the Oakland Coliseum Arena) is older. The Garden and Oracle Arena have both undergone extensive renovations over the last two decades. The 2011-12 campaign will mark the Knicks' 44th full season (45th season overall) in Garden IV.
- And even though the original Penn Station was demolished nearly a half-century ago, several of its features survive. Sculptor Adolph Weinman's bronze statue of Pennsylvania Railroad President Samuel Rea, which once overlooked the main waiting room of Penn Station, now stands proudly at the Seventh Avenue entrance to Two Penn Plaza. Two of Weinman's 22 concrete eagles, which had adorned the Station's outside perimeter for 53 years, guard Seventh Avenue in front of Two Penn.

Through The Years

1972: Garden IV becomes the first New York sports venue to install luxury boxes, formally named "Hall of Fame Lounges." The original deck of 11 luxury suites - each measuring 23x15 feet and accommodating 10 people - is installed above the mezzanine level on the 33rd Street side.Due to the ongoing luxury suite construction, basketball broadcast locations are moved to courtside and directly above center-court exit tunnels. Previously, they had been located in a two-level booth suspended from the roof.

1977: Original end zone scoreboards replaced by new 36-foot long scoreboards in each end zone, and smaller auxiliary boards on the facing of the mezzanine at center court. New boards feature tenth-of-a-second timing capabilities and black-and-white animated matrix boards.

1989-91: Over a three-year span, the Garden complex undergoes its most extensive renovation to date, a multi-million dollar effort in which:

- Each of the original red, orange, yellow, green and blue seats is removed and replaced. Primary color scheme is now purple and teal.
- Existing scoreboards are replaced by a computerized, state-of-the-art system that features the eight-sided Center Display Board (37 feet wide at the top, 34 feet wide at the bottom), complete with "GardenVision" color replay screens and multi-colored end zone boards, by White Way Company of Chicago. It is the first eight-sided scoreboard in a major U.S. arena. Original Garden sound system is also completely overhauled, including the replacement of the original center-hung "sound cluster" with four separate speaker clusters affixed to the arena ceiling.
- Original Hall of Fame Lounges (luxury boxes) are removed and replaced by a completely new deck of 89 Club Suites that encircles the entire arena, including a double-deck of suites on the 7th Avenue end.

MSG HISTORY

- The Paramount, a state-of-the-art, 5,600-seat theatre, is constructed on the former site of the Felt Forum, now named the Theater at Madison Square Garden. Fronting the main entrance is the Garden Walk of Fame, which opens in 1992.
- Two major dining facilities - The Club Restaurant and the Play-By-Play sports bar and restaurant - are constructed on the former site of the Bowling Center and the Hall of Fame Club.
- Garden exterior renovated, including the installations of animated color matrix boards above the Seventh Avenue entrance to Penn Station and the Eighth Avenue facade.
- Dramatic upgrades and improvements in other areas of the Garden, including concession stands (and all-new Food Courts), locker rooms, press room, box office, Garden Team Store and broadcast facilities.

1995: Knicks and Rangers locker room areas are further renovated and expanded, including increased player/locker space, expanded training and X-ray facilities and individual offices for all coaches.
2000: Ongoing improvement program in the new century features "GardenVision" upgraded to HD format, making it the first indoor arena to feature HD playback.
2007: LED and Matrix center scoreboard and side out-of-town boards were installed. The main concourse now boasts a sushi stand and the MSG Collectibles store.

And A New Era Dawns...
This year marks another historic event at Madison Square Garden as work commenced on the Transformation of the Garden. The comprehensive, top-to-bottom Transformation will provide a significantly enhanced experience for customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and marketing partners, from the first row to the last. The project involves over 2.6 million man hours of union labor, the equivalent of at least 1,300 full-time jobs, creating as many as 3,700 union construction jobs. It will also restore The Garden's world famous ceiling and pay homage to the buildings storied history. The project's architect is Brisbin Brook Beynon, Construction Manager is Turner and Project Manager is JLL.

Extensive research and focus groups were conducted and the feedback was used to develop the plans for the Transformation. The transformed Madison Square Garden is expected to attract even more high profile sports and entertainment events, major concerts and awards shows, as well as provide new and unique opportunities for marketing partners to drive their business objectives – JPMorgan Chase has become Madison Square Garden's first ever Marquee Partner and Delta Air Lines, Coca-Cola, and Anheuser-Busch have signed on as Signature Partners. "New York is not a city. It is a set of cities, dozens of them, divided by caste, class, taste and blood. Most of us are welcome in a few of these cities, barred from others by tradition, or fear, or indifference, or income. But all of us hold safe conduct passes to The Garden. It is a center of experience for the same reason New York is: nothing is out of place there. Walk through a neighborhood of New York and you will find people who would never dream of setting foot in Carnegie Hall, the Empire State Building, the Fillmore East, Sunnyside Gardens, The Four Seasons, or the Bronx Zoo. Madison Square Garden is alien to none of us."

- Jeff Greenfield, 1974

MSG NETWORK

MSG has been providing thrills for New York-area sports fans for over four decades. MSG's historic first telecast was on October 15, 1969 with the New York Rangers' home opener against the Minnesota North Stars to 18,000 cable television subscribers in lower Manhattan. Today, the network is available in over 11 million homes in the broader New York region and across the nation.
